HITLER'S VICTORIES TO DATE ARE BUT "STEPPING-STONES TO RUIN," IS OPINION OF CHURCHILL; CONSIDERS RETALIATIONS

Britain Will Show "No Weakness in Retaliating for New Hitler Atrocities" He Assures in Address at Edinburgh—Optimistic On The War Situation

By International News Service

EDINBURGH, Oct. 12.—Firm conviction that Adolf Hitler's victories to date are but "stepping-stones to ruin" was voiced by Prime Minister Winston Churchill today.

In an address accepting freedom of the city of Edinburgh, Churchill assured his hearers that Britain will show "no weakness in retaliating for new Hitler atrocities" such as the chaining of prisoners of war.

He then proceeded with his most optimistic review of the war situation in months but warned that "deadly dangers still beset us" and that all must drive to the limit of their powers "in this stern and sombre moment in the war which calls in high degree for firmness of spirit and constancy of soul."

Hitler, Churchill said, is a man now conscious of the fact that doom and disaster overshadow him and fully cognizant that the nations he holds in thrall are seething with rebellion, ready to strike the moment Allied armies land on the continent of Europe.

MISS DOROTHY DOYLE IS WED TO H. M. CALL

Ceremony on Saturday Takes Place in All Saints Church, Torresdale

TO LIVE AT ARLINGTON

CROYDON, Oct. 12.—An early fall wedding took place on Saturday when Miss Dorothy Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Simons, became the bride of Mr. H. Mayhew Call, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Call, Arlington, Va. The ceremony took place in a setting of white chrysanthemums and palms, in All Saints Episcopal Church, Torresdale, at the hour of 5:30 p. m., with the Rev. P. J. Brown officiating.

Miss Joan Kueny, a classmate of the bride, sang "Because," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer," with Mr. R. Bryan as the accompanist on the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Lewis J. Simons, wore a beautiful gown of ivory satin, the bodice of which was hand-brocaded. The gown had a V-neckline, long sleeves and an exceptionally long train. Her veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a heart-shaped halo. She wore a gold cross and chain, white slippers, and her shower bouquet consisted of white orchids, white roses and bouvardia.

The bride had as her attendants, Miss Dorothy Cairns and Miss Betty Waiman, Croydon; Miss Marie Willard, Trevoise; Miss Betty Schneider, Philadelphia; Miss Gloria Freas and Mrs. Walter Cunningham, Andalusia; and Miss Jodie Call, Arlington, Va., the latter being the maid of honor.

The dress of the maid of honor was of seal blue taffeta, with sweetheart neckline. It had a fitted bodice and hoop skirt with circles of scalloped taffeta with gold bows in each circle. Her headpiece was three orchid lilies forming a halo with deeper tone of blue ribbon in the back. Miss Call wore gold slippers and carried a bouquet of red roses and light pink pompons.

The bridesmaids, all former classmates of the bride, were attired in gold-colored taffeta gowns with sweetheart necklines, fitted long bodices ending in a ruffle of scalloped taffeta. Their headpieces were of six ostrich feathers, forming a halo with deeper gold ribbon falling to the waist in the back. All wore necklaces of pearls. Gold sandals and bouquets of golden brown chrysanthemums completed their costumes.

The groom chose as his best man, his father, Mr. Joseph F. Call, and had as his ushers, Mr. Fred Devoe and Mr. Edward Synakowski, Croydon; Mr. Henry Kilian, Bristol; Mr. Henry Hunt, Andalusia; Mr. Charles White, Hulmeville; and Mr. Fulton Hindsman, Atlanta, Ga. All of the ushers were also former classmates of the groom. They were attired in tuxedos and wore white rose buds as boutonnières. The groom wore a white boutonniere boutonniere to match the bride's bouquet.

The mother of the bride was attired in a sapphire blue velvet gown, sapphire blue turban, long white kid gloves, and a corsage of white orchids.

SOBY POST CADET CORPS IS HONORED AT DINNER-DANCE

Col. M. C. Gregory of U. S. Marine Corps is Speaker at Langhorne

PROMOTIONS ARE MADE

Joseph Zalot Serves As Toastmaster; Corps' Progress Noted

LANGHORNE, Oct. 12.—Two hundred and sixty were in attendance on Saturday evening at the first annual banquet and military ball given in honor of the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of Jesse W. Soby Post, No. 148, American Legion, at the Langhorne Country Club. On this occasion a short address was delivered by Colonel M. C. Gregory, of the U. S. Marine Corps, and awards were given to a number of members of the cadet corps.

A turkey dinner, professional entertainment, remarks by a number of guests, and dancing rounded out a full program and pleasant evening in the Casino of the country club which had been especially decorated for the occasion. The cadet corps colors of blue and white were used, together with the national colors, with large "Vs" appearing at intervals on the side walls. Favours at each place were replicas of the liberty bell.

One of the high-lights of the evening was the naming of the outstanding member of the corps for the year, this honor being accorded to Sergeant of the Color Guard, Eleanor Kaleida. To Miss Kaleida was given a citation card, presentation being made by Toastmaster Joseph Zalot.

Col. Gregory, the speaker of the evening, who has served for 41 years in the Marine Corps, considered in his brief remarks the word "Unity." "Unity is a word that plays a prominent role in the world of affairs," he stated. "Daily we are told that only with unity can we wage a successful war. As America increasingly becomes an armed camp, we find that unity means much to the armed forces, from the commanding officers on down." He spoke of the part unity plays in affairs of the nation, in all phases of life, and likewise in such organizations as the cadet corps which was feted at this affair.

The need of more supplies and greater effort for backing up of the armed forces was spoken of. "This can only be done by the combined effort of everyone—all working in unison," he concluded.

Also introduced to the assemblage was Lt. Colonel Culpepper of the U. S. Marine Corps. Among others presented to the gathering during the evening were: Charles Walton, Philadelphia, a former member of the Sousa band, who is an instructor of the Cadet Corps, and who has written special numbers for the local organization; John Andrus, drum instructor of the corps; Anthony Sheeko and Frank Krotowski, members of the corps committee; Wil-

BLOOD MOBILE UNIT TO VISIT HERE OCT. 22

Appeal is Again Made to Residents To Aid in Filling the Blood Bank

ONLY 839 PINTS SO FAR

A total of approximately 950 men from area covered by Local Selective Service Board No. 1 (Bristol) are now serving in the U. S. armed forces.

To date only 839 pints of blood have been secured when mobile canteens of the Red Cross have visited Bristol.

"This is not one pint of blood for each of the boys included in the above group," stated a local Red Cross worker today.

"Some of our boys may die because we who are sitting on the home-front did not think enough on the matter to do something about it," continued the spokesman.

Residents of Bristol and surrounding territory are to be given another opportunity to donate blood for the plasma unit, when the mobile canteen arrives at the Harriman Hospital on October 22nd. The hours will be from one to three and from four to 6:45 p. m. The quota for that day as it usually is on such visits is 120 pints.

"There is not one among us who would willingly let a boy die—yet because we did not think about giving a pint of our own blood we let some mother's son perish. Blood-giving doesn't hurt, and there are no ill effects later. In two months most people are ready to give again. It does not cost anything in money, and only about 30 minutes time, including 10 minutes rest after the process, is all that is required. Stop and think—if one, two or three out of every family with a boy or girl in the service would pledge themselves to give blood, loss of life for almost every one in the service who needs a transfusion would be guarded against."

Any volunteers, between ages of 18 and 69, will be welcome. Minors must secure permission of their parents. Blood will be accepted only after physical examination shows the individual can well donate such, thus no risk being run, it is stated.

"Many people cannot shoot a gun, or fly a P-40, or even buy bonds—but almost anyone can spare a pint of blood."

Telephone Bristol 2920 and make arrangements to donate blood on October 22nd.

Loses Life As He Falls Off Cliff in Bucks County

H. Kenneth Kochey, Philadelphia manual training instructor, fell 150 feet to his death Saturday night. Kochey was leading three friends down a shortcut on the Narrows, a rugged file of cliffs along the Delaware River in Bucks County.

Kochey, 37, an expert climber, lingered over a picnic supper with his friends until 9 p. m. on a 600-foot summit near Kintnersville, 20 miles north of Doylestown.

Starting down, Kochey, armed with a flashlight, led the way over steep and rough terrain. Suddenly, said the three men with him, there was a crackling of underbrush and Kochey disappeared.

The drop was sheer to a parking lot skirting the Delaware River road and beside the Wee Chateau, a roadhouse.

The men above, John Biemiller, 37, of Neshaminy, and Daniel G. Glenn, 3rd, 36, of Jamison, both in Bucks county and Ralph Vozzy, 36, of Mill and Easton rds., Willow Grove, could see the body in the light from the inn.

While they descended the way they had climbed the summit, Kochey, who taught in the Harding Junior High School, Torresdale avenue and Wakefield street, was found by Harold Dean, of Kintnersville.

Coroner H. Clayton Moyer said Kochey died of a skull fracture.

Kochey is survived by his widow, Marian, also a Philadelphia teacher, and three young sons, all of 415 Ashbourne rd., Cheltenham.

The four men left at 3 p. m. Saturday for a picnic supper and hike in the Narrows, rendezvous of nature lovers, climbers and artists. They left their car at Kintnersville.

Kochey had been there often before. For the others the country was entirely new.

They said Kochey apparently lost his way when they were going down and walked right over the cliff. The teacher went to Mexico some time ago to climb mountains and was a member of several climbing societies.

He was an exceptionally fine artist in wood carving.

One Man's Opinion

Flash—United Nations will punish criminals who started war!

Flash—we got to catch 'em first!

Flash—ain't it the truth!

The recipe for a chicken dinner is hatch, catch, kill and pluck.

We are sharpening the axe before the victory eggs are delivered.

Col. Larry MacPhail, late of the Dodgers, tried to capture the Kaiser for punishment after the last war.

MacPhail and his Model T commandos bluffed their way into the Kaiser's runout residence at Doorn.

They got close enough to hear old Wilhelm talking.

But all they got away with was a souvenir ash tray.

Let that be a lesson to all and sundry.

Thought for the day: First things first.

HAND-TO-HAND

With all the mechanized equipment of modern warfare—the tanks, the guns, the airplanes, the trucks, the motorcycles and all their attendant gadgets—the German armies over-ran Holland and Belgium in a sweeping drive which seemed to change the whole face of Mars. So powerful were the German forces that a frightened world wondered what power could stop them.

Immediately the idea of trench warfare seemed out of date. Each individual soldier was merely a cog in this new, co-ordinated, mass of mechanization. The machine seemed paramount, the men who ran them seemed a race of robots whose timing and precision were perfect, but whose opportunities as individuals were limited.

It comes as a surprise to many Americans to learn that this nation's soldiers are being taught the technique of hand-to-hand fighting. This teaching is not confined to commando units, but is part of regular Army training. Apparently the idea of individual combat with any weapons that come to hand is not outmoded after all.

Proof comes from the Russian front at Stalingrad, where Russian forces are battling the Nazis in violent man-to-man battles. The Nazi robots do not relish the taste of cold steel. It is apparent that there comes a time even in modern warfare where individual courage and the strength of desperation count for more than the machines of war.

NO MORE SPECIALS

From now on, it's going to be harder and harder to move about the country. When tire shortages and gasoline rationing in the East ended long trips by private motor car, most people felt comfortably secure in the knowledge that the railroads and the buses were still giving good service. There will continue to be rail service but it will not be the service of old.

When the Office of Defense Transportation froze railway passenger schedules as of September 26, it automatically abolished special trains for sports events, conventions, or what have you. Not only will gatherings of that type be affected, but the ban goes even farther. Extra sections to regular trains are forbidden unless such extras have been running 20 per cent of the time during the last three months. When a traveler finds cars jammed to the vestibules, he cannot count on another section being provided. The only important exemptions concern trains required for Federal purposes or in time of public calamity or military necessity.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Dec. 23, 1880. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

Before daybreak on last Friday two stables at the rear of Buckley street, near Lock No. 4 were destroyed by fire, supposed to have been caused by tramps. One of the buildings was owned by a man named McElroy, and the other the property of Mrs. Dugan. McElroy's loss was small, as the property was not very valuable, but in Mrs. Dugan's stable a lot of hay was burned, and harness worth about $50. A cow was also in the stable, but was set at liberty shortly after the breaking out of the fire.

Notwithstanding the snow storm on Monday evening, there was a large audience present at Washington Hall to enjoy the Brie-a-Brac entertainment given by Jedediah and Margaret Bassett. The performance was unique, and its drollness and humor kept the audience in a good humor during the whole two hours that it lasted.

The executive committee of the Bucks County Temperance Alliance met in Philadelphia last week. Nine of the 12 members were present. No speaker having been found to convene the county, it was decided to prosecute the work of temperance during the ensuing three months by circulating temperance literature all over the county, especially among the young.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has placed a flagman at the turnpike crossing in Morrisville, and it is said gates will soon be placed on two of the most dangerous crossings.

The fine sleighing this week has brought out every sleigh in the neighborhood. Sleigh bells jingle merrily and sleighers and sleigh dealers are happy.

One of the best results of the fashionable rage for the antique is the revival of old time plays and their growing popularity.

Death has been quite busy in our midst the past few weeks, seeming to choose this season of gaiety and joyfulness to make his lesson the more impressive. This week we are called upon to note the decease of Miss Clara Headley and James W. Martin. Miss Headley was an estimable young lady, a universal favorite in a large social circle. James W. Martin was one of the older residents of Bristol, who has lived to see many changes wrought in the borough since the time he first became acquainted with it.

Owing to the extremely bad weather on Tuesday evening, the most notable meeting of the Bristol Institute that has ever been held took place. Only 30 members were present, besides the president. The program arranged for the evening was an interesting one, and read something like this: Music, Miss Laura Duffell (snowbound in Hulmeville); duet, Messrs. Joyce and Vandegriff (snowbound in Newport-

The dwelling of Mrs. Maggie Schneider, on Dorrance street, was sold at public sale last Saturday to C. N. Taylor for $900.

The great sensation of the day is the new departure of Aaron Kratz from beyond Doylestown, with a six-horse team and 35 sleighs of elegant make, to be offered and sold at public sale in Morrisville on Friday of this week. The time seems admirably chosen. The parade through Trenton took the capital of New Jersey by surprise.

themselves, to the men and women who pay the cost of the government. "They know what is best for their communities. They know how their own problems may be solved. They know what they can afford to do and how their own tax money should be spent in their own communities. Home Rule is self rule. Our American system calls for separate local, state and federal governments. Each has its part and must not encroach upon the others. A centralized control from a distance is un-American and dangerous."

County Seat resident accepted. He left immediately for Fort Meade and did not take advantage of the 14-day furlough the other selectees chose to accept. Buss was employed at Pitcairn Field and was a member of the Doylestown Platoon, Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps.

Others selected from the Bucks County District Draft Board No. 4 group, examined last week, included: Earl D. Trauer, 22, Plumsteadville; George L. R. Whitlock, 21, Ottsville; Norman S. Ott, 20, Plumsteadville; and Paul D. Dolata, 27, New Hope.

Thirty-four out of a total of 49 selectees from Bucks County Draft Board No. 4 were accepted last week in Allentown.

The Great Game of Politics

humiliated by the descent of his former partner to the level of a legal lobbyist in a time of war. It appears to make a mockery of the things for which he thought the firm stood. At any rate, Mr. Cohen deserves praise for refusing the offers he must have had.

It is pleasant to find in the New Deal group to which he belongs one who declines to exploit his White House association for pay. There are not too many of them. Under the circumstances, Mr. Byrnes has made a good choice. So long as he does not have to be too practical, Mr. Cohen will be a superb legal adviser.

SPEAKING OF advisers, it is to be hoped that Mr. Byrnes will not take too seriously the advisory board which the President has appointed "to work with him toward economic stabilization." Fortunately, he does not have to. The executive authority is lodged in his hands. The board can advise but it cannot override. A glance at its personnel is enough to show its futility. The original selections include Mr. Morgenthau and Mr. Marriner Eccles. Mr. Jesse E. Jones and Mr. Henderson. It is an odd collection of individuals, whose economic views are wide apart. Mr. Morgenthau and Mr. Eccles are notoriously at variance in their fiscal thoughts and the schools to which Mr. Jones and Mr. Henderson belong are certainly not identical.

BUT, THE President did not improve the board when last Thursday he added two representatives of "management," two representatives of farm organizations and the inevitable pair of labor lobbyists, Mr. Murray and Mr. Green, without whom no board seems complete. Obviously, this is a modification of the old "balancing" idea which Mr. Roosevelt inaugurated two years ago with the appointment of the Messrs. Knudsen and Hillman as "codirectors with coequal powers."

of the first war production setup. That illogical arrangement eventually bogged down completely and both Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Hillman have now disappeared from view.

DESPITE THAT unhappy and costly experience, however, Mr. Roosevelt still clings to the balancing idea, as the new board evidences. The difference is that this time he has clearly overbalanced on the labor side by having on it besides the two paid labor lobbyists, Madame Perkins, Secretary of Labor, and Mr. Davis, of the War Labor Board, both of whom can be counted upon to look at every economic problem through union-labor lenses. Gifted conciliator as he is, to achieve harmony in this board on any realistic program will take all the energy and time Mr. Byrnes has. Actually, there is no need to try. His wisest course is to treat this board as "window dressing" and after an initial meeting or so, call it together at long intervals just to "report progress." Any other course would be paralyzing, for, in addition to other reasons, among its members are several of the most intractable talkers who ever got into public office.

BRISTOL BATTLES CONSHOHOCKEN TO A SCORELESS TIE

Penalized for Offside Play in Only Opportunity To Score

BUNNIES OUTPLAY FOE

Both Teams Have Four First Downs To Their Credit

CONSHOHOCKEN, Oct. 12—Bristol was in possession of the ball on the four-yard line. A Bristol back crashed into the line and carried several Conshohocken players with him as he crossed the final white stripe. The umpire threw up his arms, signifying a touchdown.

But the head linesman came running in after he sounded his horn for an offside. The players of both teams gathered about to see which player was offside. The fans on the sidelines were just as interested. Finally, the decision came. A Bristol lineman had rushed too soon and a penalty was imposed, recalling the touchdown play.

Thus passed the only scoring opportunity of the game as Bristol High and Conshohocken High battled to a scoreless tie at the stadium of this town Saturday afternoon before a large crowd.

There was no doubt that Coach Clarence Bartholomew's boys outplayed their rivals as the Bristol boys gained a total of 167 yards from scrimmage and Conshohocken made but 38. But the offensive punch in the clutches was missing and Bristol lost several first downs by the margin of a yard or so.

Both teams had four first downs to their credit. Bristol attempted 14 passes and completed seven of these for a gain of 54 yards. Conshohocken completed five of their 16 passes for a 53-yard gain.

Most of the playing was done at mid-field, with the kickers of both teams doing most of the work. Bristol recovered a blocked kick on the Conshohocken 28-yard line and carried it to the four-yard line before the offside penalty was imposed. This all happened in the first quarter, and from then on it was mostly a kicking duel.

After the game, Coach Bartholomew praised the defensive playing of his boys and the fine leadership of his appointed captain, Claude Cammille. Captain Cammille kept his teammates in high spirits throughout the game, and in the final period the Conshohocken team objected to the loud words of pep of the Bristol team, claiming it interfered with their signal calling.

Coach Bartholomew feels that his offense isn't clicking as yet, but Saturday had been an exception because two of his star backs, Paul Ruby and Mayo Scancellia, were out. Ruby played a little, but his injured shoulder forced him to the sidelines, while Scancellia is out because of a tonsillectomy. It is doubtful whether either of these boys will be ready for the Riverside game next Saturday.

DIAMOND TEAM WINS SOFTBALL LEAGUE TITLE

The Diamond team captured the Bristol Softball League championship by defeating Franklin A. C. for the second straight time yesterday afternoon on St. Ann's field. Final score was 5-3.

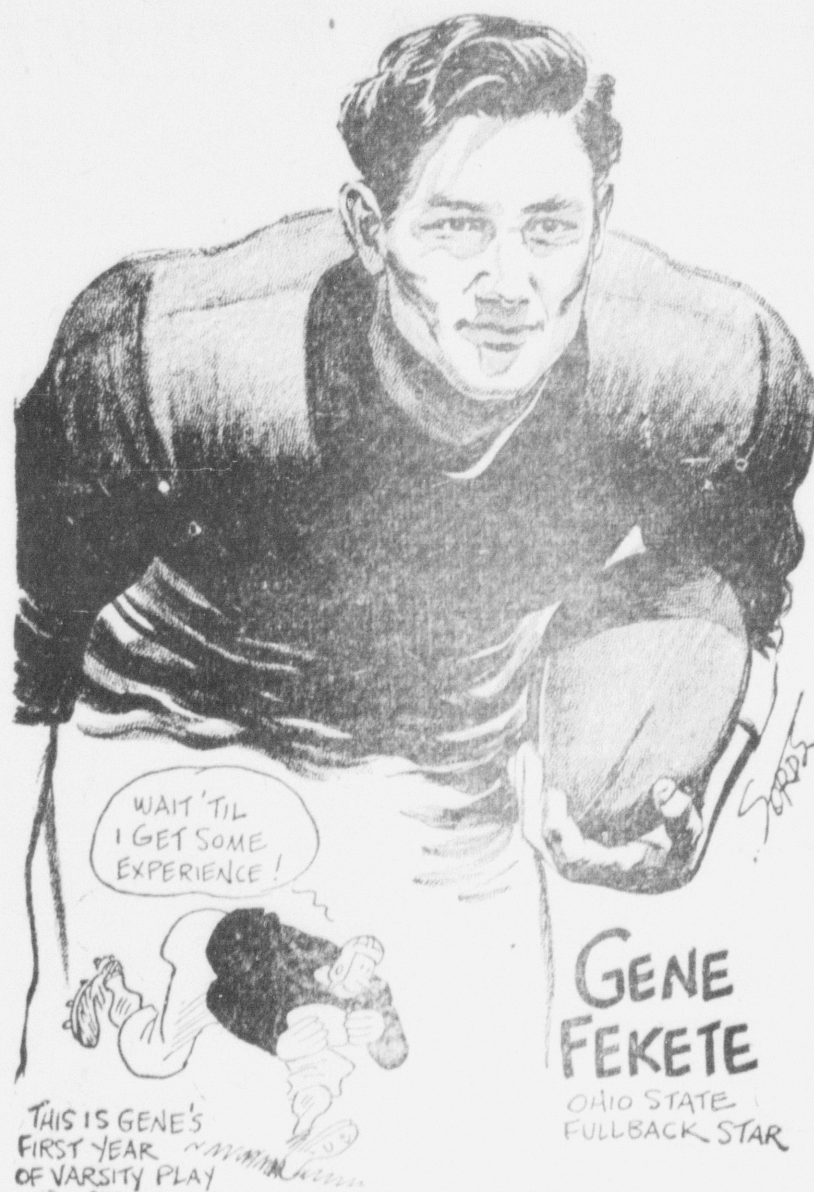

Timely hitting in the pinches by Profy, Larsen and Bartholomew and the hurrying of Bartholomew gave the Big Green the triumph.

The first two markers for Diamond were driven over the plate by Profy while Larsen's triple accounted for a pair more in the third and Bartholomew's three-bagger was good for the final run.

Bartholomew held the Franklin boys to five hits, four of these going to Lou Sassi and Tony Palumbo. The high school coach was in fine shape as his southpaw slants had the Franks popping up lining after lining.

Line-ups:
Franklin: Sassi 2b, Salustio 3b, Palumbo 3b.
Diamond: Profy 1b, Larsen 2b, Bartholomew 3b.

BURLINGTON BEATS MORRISVILLE BY ONE POINT IN GRID BATTLE

Two Forward Passes in Last Quarter Meant Defeat For Morrisville

FINAL SCORE IS 7 TO 6

Morrisville Was in The Lead At The End of The First Half

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 12—Two forward passes in the last quarter of the game sent the Morrisville Bulldogs down to a defeat at the hands of the Burlington High School. Saturday afternoon, on the Robert Morris field.

The first completed aerial, thrown by LeRoy "Fibber" McGee and caught on the other end by Percy Bowker, was good for the tying touchdown while shortly afterwards, another completed pass by the same pair was good enough to win the game, the final score being 7-6.

Previous to the completed passes, Morrisville had made a gallant stand on the one-yard and held for four downs. But after booting out of danger and Morrisville recovered a fumble but did not take advantage of the "break" and lost the ball when Phillips fumbled on the 29 yard line. Successive plays carried it to the 13 yard line where McGee heaved his first pass.

At the end of the first half, Morrisville was in the lead, 6-0, when Matt Phillips slipped through the Burlington line for a 20 yard run. The try for the extra point failed to convert when Mickey Stradling's heave did not find a receiver.
